No one has left a cleaner personal and professional record. Modest, gentle, unselfish, always cheerful, faithful, loyal, honest, --for vice and dishonesty had no temptations for him--he lived universally respected and trusted; and died universally lamented. The writer knew the subject of this sketch for more than fifty years. Their fathers were neighbors and friends; they were schoolmates; they were comrades in the same Company and Regiment in the Civil War; they practiced law in the same circuit; they were associated in many difficult and important litigations. The boyish partiality ripened into the genuine friendship of manhood, mellowed with an affection, rarely existent between men, as the years followed. And now the survivor is profoundly thankful that he may truly say of his departed friend, that as a youth, and as a man, as a lawyer and citizen, as a friend and husband and father, in peace and in war, he was clean, loyal and brave; and is worthy of an honorable place in the records of this Association. T. F. Davidson. Mr. Manly: We beg further to report that, in accordance with the provisions of the By-Laws, we have secured a biographical sketch of a member of the Bar of North Carolina, of distinguished position in the profession, now deceased, Hon. Leonidas C. Edwards. The memorial of Mr. Edwards has been prepared by Mr. T. T. Hicks, of this Committee, and will be presented...
